Professionalism – Dispositions:

Because this course is part of an accredited program that leads to professional certification, students are expected to demonstrate behavior consistent with a professional career. Lack of professionalism in any of the following areas will alter the final grade:

1. Attend all class meetings. If you miss a class session, please notify the instructor in writing (email) as soon as possible. Absences do not change assignment due dates. See the Attendance Policy – page 7 - for this course.
2. Arrive on time just as you would at a school site. Late arrivals to and early departures from class will result in a drop of the final grade.
3. Prepare carefully for class. Be ready to discuss readings and assignments thoughtfully. All voices are valued in our classroom community. Please be sure we get to hear your thoughts on the topics we cover. Each written assignment is expected to have a clear organizational presentation and be free of grammar, punctuation and spelling errors. There will be a reduction in points for grammar, punctuation and spelling errors.
4. Complete assignments on time. Late assignments will receive a 20% reduction in points for each day late. Occasionally a student may be asked to revise an assignment. If so, the revised work must be submitted no later than one week after it was returned and may not be eligible for full credit. Absences do not change assignment due dates. If you are absent when an assignment is due, you may submit the work via email (except for SS in You!) so that it is not counted late. I will confirm receipt of emailed assignments.
5. Interact professionally and collaborate responsibly with your colleagues and professor. Teacher education is a professional preparation program and students will be expected to adhere to standards of dependability, academic honesty and writing achievement. In short, please do your part to promote a healthy, happy, productive social environment.

Also, you are welcome to use a laptop computer in class. However, it is expected that you will use the technology for class related activity. Save checking emails or other personal use for time outside of class.

PARTICIPATION, COLLABORATION AND PROFESSIONALISM

Students will engage in active learning each class session, and will be expected to actively participate, collaborate, and demonstrate professionalism at all times.

- Do you participate in class discussions productively, sharing your knowledge and understandings?
- Do you interact productively with your peers, taking on a variety of roles (leader, follower, etc.)?
- Do you contribute appropriately to group work—do you “do your share”?
- Are you able to accept others’ opinions? Are you supportive of others’ ideas?
- Do you support your peers during their presentations?
- Can you monitor and adjust your participation to allow for others’ ideas to be heard?
- Do you show a positive attitude and disposition towards teaching all students?
- Do you exhibit professional behavior at all times and display a “can do” attitude?

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Teacher Performance Expectation (TPE) Competencies

The course objectives, assignments, and assessments have been aligned with the CTC standards for the Multiple Subject Credential. This course is designed to help teachers seeking a California teaching credential to develop the skills, knowledge, and attitudes necessary to assist schools and district in implementing effective programs for all students. The successful candidate will be able to merge theory and practice in order to realize a comprehensive and extensive educational program for all students.

California Teacher Performance Assessment (CalTPA)

Beginning July 1, 2008 all California credential candidates must successfully complete a state-approved system of teacher performance assessment (TPA), to be embedded in the credential program of preparation. At CSUSM this assessment system is called the CalTPA or the TPA for short.

To assist your successful completion of the TPA a series of informational seminars are offered over the course of the program. TPA related questions and logistical concerns are to be addressed during the seminars. Your attendance to TPA seminars will greatly contribute to your success on the assessment.

Additionally, COE classes use common pedagogical language, lesson plans (lesson designs), and unit plans (unit designs) in order to support and ensure your success on the TPA and more importantly in your credential program.

The CalTPA Candidate Handbook, TPA seminar schedule, and other TPA support materials can be found on the COE website provided at the website provided:

ASSIGNMENTS

The Anticipated Schedule + detailed instructions for some course assignments will be handed out in class.

➤ On-line Reading Responses

20 points

The assigned readings provide an important foundation for your increasing understanding of how to effectively teach social studies. To aid you in remembering the content, and assist you with meaningful class participation, you will be asked to respond online to each of 9 readings. For one of the readings you will also take a leadership role (along with your partner/s). For each reading you will make two online responses of about one paragraph—one response directly to one of the leaders' posted questions and a second response to another student's entry. A point will be given for each of the two weekly entries (2x9=18 points). For the week you become the reading's leader, you will receive an additional two points. Leaders will collaborate to: (1) post questions to frame the discussion, (2) facilitate and encourage discussion, and (3) post a final online commentary to summarize the week's discussion and bring closure to the reading.

➤ Finding the Social Studies in You!

1 bonus point!

Have you ever tried to explain who you are through six social studies disciplines? For this (required) assignment you will reintroduce yourself to our class by creating a self model that physically illustrates aspects of you through the social studies disciplines. You may use photographs, drawings, cut-outs, objects, your imagination, etc. This activity models a way to verbally and visually engage your students -- and will demonstrate your understanding of the disciplines. Aim to present for 4-5 minutes.

The following three assignments will link together to support a social studies unit plan centered on a Big Idea for your selected grade level (K-6)...

➤ Literature Connection – Lesson Design... a partner assignment

20 points

A wealth of children's literature exists that strongly supports the state standards for teaching social studies. For this assignment you and your partner/s will select one book appropriate for the grade level unit you are developing. You will then dramatically present your book and explain how it can be used to advance children's thinking about key social studies concepts. You will create a handout for your colleagues and design a lesson that incorporates your book.
(more details to come)

➤ Community Resource / Field Trip Project... a partner assignment

20 points

In this assignment you and your Literature Connection partner/s will explore and share information about a field trip site in San Diego County. By designing a variety of pre, during, and post-trip teaching activities, as well as higher level thinking questions, you will be able to plan an educational (rather than purely recreational) field trip. (more details to come)

➤ Oral History Project ... an individual assignment

20 points

Collecting oral histories is an exciting way to help children understand that “history” is found all around us and is being continually created. In this project, you will conduct an oral history interview of a person about a topic that relates to your social studies unit.

To support your interview, you will bring to class on the designated day a primary source object (artifact, document, photographs, etc.) of significance to the person/topic of the interview. We will then create a “classroom museum”. (more details to come).

➤ Mock Interview

10 points

Imagine you are at a job interview and were just asked: “How will you teach social studies in your classroom?” Knowing how to teach and structure learning in social studies, and then being able to express your understanding, can be two different abilities. In order to help you eloquently articulate the knowledge you gained through this course (and thereby increase your chances of getting hired!), as well as enhance your educational philosophy statement, you will participate in a mock interview.

ASSIGNMENT	POINTS
Professionalism	10
Reading Responses	20
Social Studies in You!	1 bonus point
Literature Connection – Lesson Design	20
Community Field Trip	20
Oral History Project	20
Mock Interview	10

TOTAL: 100 points

Grading Scale:

Grades will be determined by the total number of points earned (100 points possible):

A = 94-100 B+ = 87-89 B- = 80-82 C = 73-76 D = 60-69
A- = 90-93 B = 83-86 C+ = 77-79 C- = 70-72 F = 0-59

Remember! You must maintain a B average (3.0 GPA) in your teacher education courses to receive a teaching credential from the State of California.

Exemplary “A” Students (you!)

1. Demonstrate serious commitment to their learning, making full use of the learning opportunities available and searching out the implications of their learning for future use.
2. Complete all assignments thoroughly, thoughtfully and timely.
3. Make insightful connections between assignments and their developing overall understanding of social studies concepts; continually question and examine assumptions in a genuine spirit of inquiry.
4. Show high level achievement of course goals.
5. Display a “can do” attitude, give 100%, and work to help others learn too.

EDMS 544 – LITERATURE CONNECTION

-- a partner assignment --

Your Literature Connection will serve as one of three sections comprising your social studies unit. For this assignment, you will select a single (fiction or nonfiction) book that addresses the themes, and history/social science standards, that match the same Big Idea for your field trip location and oral history interview. It can be literature that you read to students or that students read by themselves.

When introducing a unit you should think about ways to invite your students into the topic. Many times, a book is a good way to do that. You may want to consult the SCORE website, NCSS Notable Children’s Tradebooks (www.socialstudies.org), or your school librarian for suggestions. This assignment will include three parts... (1) a “dramatic” presentation, (2) a handout for classmates, (3) a written “content area literacy” lesson plan demonstrating how you will incorporate the book into your instruction.

REQUIREMENTS

(1) A 20 MINUTE “DRAMATIC/INTERACTIVE” PRESENTATION “selling” us on why your book is great to use with students. Be sure to consider the following when organizing your presentation:

- After reading your book carefully, identify several key themes and select one or two to focus on during your presentation. You can present a mini version of your lesson design, present one of the teaching ideas listed on your handout, or develop some other creative presentation.
- You will want to tell enough about the event or character to involve your audience but leave them curious to read the book themselves – so you might not want to give away the ending!
- Clearly connect the themes you discuss to social studies content and your unit standards.
- Include audience involvement and several creative elements, (visual aids, dress-up, edibles) to capture everyone’s attention. The use of Power Point is encouraged to display images and text, or add music. Remember--active learning is best!
- Practice your presentation several times aloud to yourself (or other family, friends, dogs, cats...) in advance to check for timing and smoothness of presentation.
- Be sure you and your partner/s each contribute equally and actively in the presentation.
- Although you may choose to write out the basics of your presentation, do not read it. Make eye contact with your audience, and change your vocal inflections. If it fits the book, ham it up.

(2) A HANDOUT with key information about your book. This will be emailed to your instructor and your cohort before your presentation, OR make enough typed copies of the handout for everyone in our class and distribute on the day of your presentation.

Please use the following format to give us key information about your book. The goal is for everyone to come away with lots of ideas for ways to use social studies literature with students.

Title: Harriet and the Promised Land

Author: Jacob Lawrence, Aladdin Paperbacks, ISBN# xxxxx, 1997
Grade Level: 3rd
H/SS Standard: 3.4.6 Describe the lives of American heroes who took risks to secure our freedoms.
Non Fiction (historical fiction)

Big Idea: People today and people from the past made/make a difference in the world.

Key Questions: What is a hero? Can common people be heroes? In what ways have heroes made a difference in people’s lives? How has your life been “touched” by a hero?

Summary

Harriet Tubman was a brave, courageous woman. As a young slave she endured many hardships; she was often beaten by her mistress and feared that she too would be sold “down the river”, like her two sisters. For these reasons, she decided to escape, and was known to exclaim: “I have a right to liberty or death. If I could not have one, I would have the other.”

Harriet escaped by traveling on what was known as the Underground Railroad; each stop was the house of someone who believed slavery was wrong and who was willing to help runaway slaves find their way to freedom. In the years to come Harriet worked as a laborer and used much of her money to lead over three hundred slaves to freedom. She didn’t stop there.....read this book to discover how she dedicated her life to fight for human rights.

Teaching Ideas:

1. Trace the route of the Underground Railroad on a map.
2. Ask students to identify characteristics of a “hero”.
3. Sing “Follow The Drinking Gourd” and discuss the hidden messages in the lyrics.
4. Study related vocabulary words, such as: Abolitionist, Big Dipper, Drinking Gourd, North Star, Plantation, Safe House, etc. – then create a class paper quilt alternating squares of vocabulary words with drawings depicting the words.
