College of Education Mission Statement

The mission of the College of Education Community is to collaboratively transform public education by preparing thoughtful educators and advancing professional practices. We are committed to diversity, educational equity, and social justice, exemplified through reflective teaching, life-long learning, innovative research and on-going service. Our practices demonstrate a commitment to student-centered education, diversity, collaboration, professionalism, and shared governance. (Adopted by COE Governance Community, October, 1997).

Course Description

This course focuses on curriculum development, methods, techniques, materials, planning, organization, and assessment in social studies. Emphasis is placed on using community-based resources and on the integration of curricular areas. Methods of cross-cultural language and academic development are integrated into the course.

Course Prerequisite

Admission to the Multiple Subject/CLAD Teacher Credential Program. Requires participation/observation in the public schools.

Course Goals and Objectives

The social studies are perhaps the most important part of the school curriculum because they not only bring together basic tools (such as the 3 R's) but utilizes them authentically. In the social studies we wrestle with crucial questions: What kind of society do we want to have? What is a "good citizen"? What is fair? How can we create better ways of living together? Our role as educators is to help students develop responsible and thoughtful ways of thinking, believing and acting.

As your instructor, I am committed to modeling reflective and transparent teaching in order to assist you in successfully achieving the goals of this course.

As a result of this course, you will be able to:

- 1) apply the California History/Social Science Framework, the State H/SS Standards and related documents to the classroom experience;
- 2) understand the value of incorporating primary source materials, the arts, and oral history methods into social studies instruction;
- 3) become aware of the multitude of community resources available to teachers and the ways in which these resources can be used to strengthen the social studies program;
- 4) design lessons / units that are grade level and developmentally appropriate, that utilize primary source materials, that infuse a multicultural/lingual perspective, and that address the needs of diverse learners;
- 5) design curricula that reflect a variety of instructional strategies and develop children's higher-level thinking skills through active participation;
- 6) more deeply appreciate the social sciences and history as a field of study.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Teacher Performance Expectation (TPE) Competencies

The course objectives, assignments, and assessments have been aligned with the CTC standards for the Multiple Subject Credential. This course is designed to help teachers seeking a California teaching credential to develop the skills, knowledge, and attitudes necessary to assist schools and district in implementing effective programs for all students. The successful candidate will be able to merge theory and practice in order to realize a comprehensive and extensive educational program for all students.

California Teacher Performance Assessment (CalTPA)

Beginning July 1, 2008 all California credential candidates must successfully complete a state-approved system of teacher performance assessment (TPA), to be embedded in the credential program of preparation. At CSUSM this assessment system is called the CalTPA or the TPA for short.

To assist your successful completion of the TPA a series of informational seminars are offered over the course of the program. TPA related questions and logistical concerns are to be addressed during the seminars. Your attendance to TPA seminars will greatly contribute to your success on the assessment.

Additionally, COE classes use common pedagogical language, lesson plans (lesson designs), and unit plans (unit designs) in order to support and ensure your success on the TPA and more importantly in your credential program.

The CalTPA Candidate Handbook, TPA seminar schedule, and other TPA support materials can be found on the COE website provided at the website provided: <http://lynx.csusm.edu/coe/CalTPA/CalTPAdocuments.asp>

Professionalism/Dispositions

Because this course is part of an accredited program leading to professional certification, students are expected to demonstrate behavior consistent with a professional career. Lack of professionalism in any of the following areas will alter the final grade:

1. Attend all class meetings. Due to the dynamic and interactive nature of courses in the College of Education, all students are expected to attend all classes and participate actively. Absences and late arrivals/early departures will affect the final grade. At a minimum, students must attend more than 80% of class time, or s/he may not receive a passing grade for the course at the discretion of the instructor. Should the student have extenuating circumstances, s/he should contact the instructor as soon as possible.

For this class, if you are absent 1 day, your highest possible grade is a B. If you are absent 2 days, regardless of the reason, your highest possible grade is a C, which means you will not pass the course. Late arrivals and early departures will affect your final grade. Absences do not change assignment due dates. Late assignments will receive a reduction in points for each day late. Notify instructor in writing (email) as soon as possible if you are absent or know in advance you will not be attending class.

2. Interact professionally and collaborate responsibly with your colleagues and professor. Teacher education is a professional preparation program and students will be expected to adhere to standards of dependability, and academic honesty. Prepare carefully for class, and be ready to discuss readings and assignments thoughtfully.

3. Each written assignment is expected to have a clear organizational presentation and be free of grammar, punctuation and spelling errors. There will be a reduction in points for grammar, punctuation and spelling errors.

4. Complete all assignments on time. Late assignments will receive a 20% reduction in points for each day late. Occasionally a student may be asked to revise an assignment. If so, the revised work must be submitted no later than one week after it was returned and may not be eligible for full credit. If you are absent when an assignment is due, you may submit the work via email (except for Physical Model) so it is not counted late. Please request “return receipt” from your toolbar when submitting an assignment via email due to absence. Receipt of the assignment will be returned by the instructor if this option is utilized when email is sent by student.

University Writing Requirement

Every course at CSUSM must have a writing requirement of at least 2500 words. In EDMS 544, the Field Trip Project, Oral History Project, Unit Plan, Mock Interview, and Literature Connection will collectively contain a minimum of 2500 words.

The Teacher Performance Expectations and CLAD Competencies identified above are addressed in EDMS 544B through class discussions, activities, oral/visual presentations, and written assignments.

ASSIGNMENTS

Detailed instructions and rubrics for some course assignments will be handed out in class. These assignments include both individual and group projects.

Reading Response Journal

15%

The assigned readings provide an important foundation for your increasing understanding of how to effectively teach social studies. To aid you in remembering the readings, and assist you with meaningful class participation, you are asked to respond to each reading assignment by coming to class with an entry in your reading response journal (Blue Book) summarizing key points from the assigned reading for that day. Response journals will be checked randomly and may be collected at the professor’s discretion. Response journals may also be referenced by you to answer open-ended prompts about assigned readings. Please structure each page with:

(1) reading identification (T:8, for example),

(2) key points from the reading (you may include graphics),

(3) a paragraph toward the bottom that connects the reading to your perspectives/ experience,

(4) one question that the reading assignment prompts you to ask after thinking deeper about the issue.

☐ Finding the Social Studies in You! A Physical Model

Pass/Fail

Have you ever tried to explain who you are through six of the social studies disciplines? For this assignment you will reintroduce yourself to a small group in our class by creating a physical model illustrating aspects of you through each of the disciplines. You may use photographs, drawings, cutouts, objects, your imagination, etc. This activity models a way to engage your students, and will demonstrate your awareness of the disciplines. Aim to present for 4-5 minutes.

The following assignments will link together and create a well-developed social studies unit:

☐ Literature Connection

A wealth of children's literature exists that strongly supports the state standards for teaching social studies and is conducive to the integration of visual and performing arts. This assignment will serve as the introduction to your unit. You will select one children's literature book appropriate for the grade level unit you will be developing. You will be required to write a lesson plan that incorporates this book, most likely as the "hook" for the unit you will be developing. You will also be required to present your book (Book Chat) to our class with a handout, and explain how it can be used to advance children's thinking about the key social studies concept of your unit. (more details to come)

☐ Community Resource / Field Trip Project

25%

In this assignment you will explore and share information about a field trip site in San Diego County. By designing a variety of pre, during, and post-trip teaching activities, you will be able to plan an educational (rather than purely recreational) field trip that incorporates the arts in order to enhance understandings within your unit (more details to come).

☐ Oral History Project

15%

Collecting oral histories is an exciting way to help children understand that "history" is found all around us and is continually created. In this project, you will conduct an oral history interview and, you will describe an oral history project for your students addressing the essential issues of your unit.

☐ Mock Interview

10%

Imagine you are at a job interview and were just asked: "How will you teach social studies in your classroom?" Knowing how to teach and structure learning in social studies, and then being able to express your understanding, can be two different abilities. In order to help you eloquently articulate the knowledge you have gained through this course, as well as enhance your educational philosophy, you will participate in a mock interview. Be prepared to describe at least five (5) of the most important concepts or ideas you have learned in EDMS 544.

☐ Anticipated Schedule including due dates for assignments will be available first class session (subject to change)

Assignments & Participation Percentage

Self Model	P/F	Intro to social science disciplines
Professionalism	15%

Grading Scale:

Assignments will be scored (1-4), using rubrics listing specific criteria to be addressed. Rubrics will be sent to students with each assignment. Assignments are weighted as listed above. The Unit Plan is P/F; the extent to which you apply yourself with the plan will allow for more in-depth projects, which are graded. The Self Model is also P/F, and is indicative of your level of professionalism.
