College of Education Mission Statement

The mission of the College of Education Community is to collaboratively transform public education by preparing thoughtful educators and advancing professional practices. We are committed to diversity, educational equity, and social justice, exemplified through reflective teaching, life-long learning, innovative research and on-going service. Our practices demonstrate a commitment to student-centered education, diversity, collaboration, professionalism, and shared governance. (Adopted by COE Governance Community, October, 1997).

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Required of all credential candidates. This course explores cultural and linguistic diversity as critical variables in achieving educational equity for all students. Major units include intensive theoretical and practical articulation of culture and cultural pluralism; educational issues of race, class, gender, language, ethnicity, sexual orientation and exceptionality; social, structural, programmatic and curricular issues; and effective teaching for diverse populations.

Course Objectives

Students completing EDUC 364 will be able to demonstrate:

- developing competencies in TPE 15: Social Justice and Equity;
- understanding of various concepts of culture and cultural contact, and their applicability to learning and teaching;
- understanding of cultural diversity in the United States and California;
- general familiarity with cultural responsive pedagogy;
- understanding of gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender students, teachers and families.

College of Education Attendance Policy

Due to the dynamic and interactive nature of courses in the College of Education, all students are expected to attend all classes and participate actively. At a minimum, students must attend more than 80% of class time, or s/he may not receive a passing grade for the course at the discretion of the instructor. Individual instructors may adopt more stringent attendance requirements. Should the student have extenuating circumstances, s/he should contact the instructor as soon as possible. (Adopted by the COE Governance Community, December, 1997.)

Students will lose 4 points from attendance/participation for each missed class.

Authorization to Teach English Learners

The credential program at CSUSM has been specifically designed to prepare teachers for the diversity of languages often encountered in California public school classrooms. The authorization to teach English learners is met through the infusion of content and experiences within the credential program, as well as additional coursework. Students successfully completing this program receive a credential with authorization to teach English learners. (Approved by the CCTC in SB 2042 Programs Standards, August, 2002).

Teacher Performance Expectation (TPE) Competencies

This course is designed to help teachers seeking the Multiple or Single Subject(s) Credential to develop the skills, knowledge, and attitudes necessary to assist schools and districts in implementing an effective program for all students. The successful candidate will be able to merge theory and practice in order to realize a comprehensive and extensive educational program for all students. The course objectives, assignments, and assessments have been aligned with the CCTC standards for the Multiple and Single Subject(s) Credential. You can incorporate artifacts from this class into your final comprehensive portfolio. The following TPE is addressed in this course:

TPE 15: Social Justice and Equity

Teacher candidates will be able to identify issues of social justice and equity in the classroom and can apply appropriate instructional strategies to ensure equal outcomes for diverse students. They will be familiar with ideas, definitions, and major theorists in the fields of multicultural education, social reconstruction, and democratic education. Pluralism and divergent perspectives on educating students will be the foundation of designing effective lessons and instructional practices for diverse students. Candidates will understand when and how to collaborate with others, especially curriculum specialists, community leaders, and parents on preparing relevant and appropriate instructional activities, curricular units, and school structures that would provide equitable outcomes for students from different linguistic, cultural, and social economic backgrounds.

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

Outcomes and Standards

The context for, and scope of this course is aligned with standards for the Cross-cultural Language and Academic Development (CLAD) endorsement, as articulated by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC), and as approved by the faculty of the College of Education in development of the program approval documents. (Note: As of 2002, the CLAD competencies are collectively referred to as an Authorization to Teach English Learners.) Further consideration has been given to the alignment of standards for multicultural education as articulated by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC), and the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS). Emphasis is placed on learning outcomes (what you know and can demonstrate) rather than on inputs (putting in “seat time”, meeting minimum criteria for assignments, checking off tasks and activities), and how these outcomes correspond to your potential to enhance student learning as a new teacher.

Ability

Every student has the right to equitable educational consideration and appropriate accommodation. Students having differing ability (mobility, sight, hearing, documented learning challenges, first language/English as a second language) are requested to contact the professor at the earliest opportunity. Every effort will be made to accommodate special need. Students are reminded of the availability of Disabled Student Services, the Writing Center, technology assistance in the computer labs, and other student support services available as part of reasonable accommodation for special needs students.

Academic Honesty

It is expected that each student will do his or her own work, and contribute equitably to group projects and processes. If there is any question about academic honesty, consult the University Catalog.

Appeals

Every student has the right to appeal grades, or appeal for redress of grievances incurred in the context of any class. Disputes may be resolved informally with the professor, or through the formal grades appeal process. For the latter, consult Dr. Kelly, Associate Dean.

Students with Disabilities Requiring Reasonable Accommodations

Students are approved for services through the Disabled Student Services Office (DSS). The DSS Office is located in Craven Hall 5205, and can be contacted by phone at (760) 750-4905 or TTY (760) 750-4909. Students authorized by DSS to receive reasonable accommodations should meet with their instructor during office hours or, in order to ensure confidentiality, in a more private setting.

ASSIGNMENTS / DUE DATES / POINTS POSSIBLE

Note: the following is a concise explanation of probable assignments for this course. There is a strong possibility that the instructor will modify some of these assignments to meet the needs of the class. However, all students will be kept aware of any changes well in advance of any due date.

- 1. Attendance and Class Participation 20 points*
All students are expected to participate in class activities and demonstrate reflective learning. Students who do not attend a class session, or do not participate in class activities will not receive attendance and participation points for that session. Four (4) points will be deducted for each missed class session. It is important that students are well prepared for course sessions by completing the readings and assignments scheduled before the class meeting.
- 2. Personal History of Otherness 20 points*
By researching and studying one's relationship to the seven categories of typical "otherness" in U.S. society, it is possible for us to gain an appreciation about ourselves as individuals and our many similarities and differences. In this assignment you are to write a 6-8 page narrative about your relationship to "otherness" in terms of race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, age, and physical or mental ability. Reflect on your own experiences in terms of your social context, your family background, and other factors determined by your own circumstances and upbringing. Rank the seven categories from most important to least important in regards to who you are as an individual. Be prepared to discuss your assignment within a larger class dialogue.
DUE: February 8th
- 3. Reflections / Journal Entries 15 points*
At various times throughout the course, you will be asked to write a journal entry / reflection statement. Each journal entry will be approximately one page in length and will cover a variety of topics including; a reflection of your learning experiences, a response to a class discussion, and / or a critique of a class reading or film. You will be asked to discuss and respond to journal entries in pairs or small groups.
DUE: Throughout the Spring semester
- 4. "Hot Topics" in Education 10 points*
In pairs, students will have the opportunity to present a "hot topic" in education of their choosing to the class. Students will present their topic and then guide a short discussion with the class (approximately 10 -15 minutes). You should find ideas for topics on the following websites:

5. Outcome Assessment (Photography and Paper) 10 points

This is your opportunity to examine your own learning. There are two parts of this assignment to achieve this goal.

First, you will need to take pictures that represent your understanding of the key concepts of our class. Second, write a 2 page maximum explanation of those pictures and your learning. Your pictures must include the following:

1. A picture that represents your definition of social justice
2. A picture that represents your definition of multicultural education
3. A picture that represents your understanding of your identity formation
4. A picture that represents what you learned in our class
5. A picture that represents how your understanding of social justice and equity will impact your future teaching

Your 2 page well-crafted essay should discuss your pictures, specifically

1. describe your understanding of social justice and equity
2. discuss what you learned in the class that contributed to your understanding of social justice and equity
3. and discuss how your understanding of social justice and equity will shape your attitudes, disposition, and demonstrated behaviors as a future teacher.

DUE: May 3rd

5. Final Presentation 25 points

The class will divide into six (6) groups. With the guidance of the instructor, each group will select a topic of their choosing related to Multicultural Education. Groups will be expected to present multiple perspectives of their chosen topic. Each group will prepare a 20-30 minute presentation and discussion for the class. Each group will also submit a 5-7 page paper on their topic. The class will determine the criteria for the presentations, and evaluate each group based on the chosen criteria.

Final presentations must include the following elements:

- i. The presentation topic must be formed around social justice and equity
- ii. Students will work in groups
- iii. Students will submit a research paper (group paper)
- iv. Students will use APA format to write their papers
- v. The paper will include resources from any or all of the following;
