COLLEGE OF EDUCATION MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the College of Education Community is to collaboratively transform public education by preparing thoughtful educators and advancing professional practices. We are committed to diversity, educational equity, and social justice, exemplified through reflective teaching, life-long learning, innovative research and on-going service. Our practices demonstrate a commitment to student-centered education, diversity, collaboration, professionalism, and shared governance. (Adopted by COE Governance Community, October, 1997).

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course addresses the needs of school teachers faced with the growing diversity that exists in today's classrooms. As such, it will focus on bilingual sociolinguistic/sociocultural competence and implications for learning and instruction, application of effective alternative instructional practices, cultural aspects of English learners, as well as effective and appropriate English language development (ELD) techniques and successful bilingual, multilingual education for language minority students.

In this class prospective teachers gain knowledge and understanding pertaining to similarities and differences between, contributions of, exchanges between, and the varying perspectives of the populations referenced in the Non-Discrimination Policy of the State of California.

AUTHORIZATION TO TEACH ENGLISH LEARNERS

Beginning fall of 2002, CSUSM an early adopter of the new AB 2042 program standards, intends to prepare new teachers for the diversity of languages often encountered in California public school classrooms. The authorization to teach English learners is met through the infusion of content and experiences within the Multiple Subject Program, as well as additional coursework. Students successfully completing this program receive the Preliminary Multiple Subject Credential with authorization to teach English learners (note: formerly called CLAD).

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

In this class, all students begin with 100 points. Points will be deducted from your total, based on the quality of the work you turn in for each assignment.

In addition, all students are expected to participate in class activities and demonstrate reflective learning. It is important that students are well prepared for course sessions by completing the readings and assignments scheduled before the class meeting. Unless otherwise negotiated with the instructor, all assignments are to be handed in on the due date. Assignments not handed-in on due date will lose 10% of earned credit per day. Assignments should be typed and double-spaced (including the class journal).

The following grading scale will be used with the points students have remaining at the end of class:

Note: Students taking EDUC 364 as a prerequisite for teacher credential and graduate programs are reminded that the College requires completion of this course with a C+ or higher.

All assignments are due on the dates indicated below (also indicated on the course weekly activity listing). Please manage your time and plan accordingly. Assignments must be word processed/ typewritten, double-spaced, with standard margins, unless completed in class. It is expected that all assignments will reflect university level composition.

ASSIGNMENTS, DUE DATES, AND BEGINNING POINT VALUES

1. Attendance and class participation 20 points

First is the expectation that you will attend all class sessions and participate actively in class activities, group and individual sharing, and discussions. This will include the many assignments which are done in and out of class as non-graded, but part of the comprehensive participation part of the your grade. Remember, if you miss one class session (or more), you will automatically lose between 30 and 40 points, dropping your grade to the C range, based on the COE attendance policy.

2. Interactive Journal (4 @ 5 points each) 15 points

Interactive journals are a way for the professor to respond to your questions, reflections, insights, or concerns regarding course content. They also facilitate relationship between the student and professor. The professor will respond to your entry with a question/comments to further your thinking.

This journal will be maintained every other week and may include the following (some class time will be devoted to these):

- A written summary and/or description of the topics discussed in class that reflects understanding of the key concepts. Both comments from professor and other students may be reflected in the journal.
- Meta-reflections and/or analysis of key concepts, particularly in terms of the connections that can be made between class discussions and teaching English language learners, with specific examples from student teaching experiences, school observations, or other personal experiences in diverse settings. It is critical that direct connections are made with teaching experiences in the form of anecdotes, case studies, or narratives.
- The journal will be graded according to its comprehensiveness, insightful connections, and “deep understanding” of the issues. The class journal should address instructional concerns, school structures, teaching strategies, and school environments related to social justice and equity in diverse settings.

3. Lesson Observation 15 points

- For this assignment you will follow an English learner or a group of learners at your student teaching or a convenient school site (. You will collect and document evidence of any instructional modifications made to provide comprehensible academic input for the student(s). Instructions for this assignment will be distributed.

4. Multicultural Literature Activity

(15 paper/ 5 poster) 20 points

- Choose three powerful children's multicultural selections that should be the center of the curriculum for different times throughout the year.
- At least one of the books must be bilingual (English and another language) with a brief discussion of how "primary language support" might be incorporated into a literacy lesson.
- Write one reading and writing lesson plan that will clearly delineate how every child will be successful by providing universal access to diverse students (e.g., gifted, English learners, special needs, non-readers, poor).

The format of the multicultural literature activity should include:

1. Brief summary of each book
2. Grade level this lesson is appropriate for
3. Outline/plan of how the books will be used.
4. Reading and writing lesson plan that will identify standards being covered.
5. Identify Assessment strategies: How you will determine students learned what you intended (how you will assess them)?
6. Primary language support component of the lesson plan

Poster Sessions

Tables will be set up to provide space for half the groups to present/display their Multicultural Literature Selection. Other class members will walk around and listen to the discussions on the different books selected.

Note: Dr. Alice Quioco has developed an excellent website with a bibliography of children's literature and multicultural books that could be a great resource for you (<http://www.csusm.edu/Quiocho>).

4. SDAIE UNIT PLAN

20 points

A handout will be provided with the complete instructions for this assignment.

Critical Assessment Task (CATs)

Applying the SDAIE criteria discussed in Amazing English, include SDAIE activities in an integrated comprehensive unit of study (which may have some components of your MC Literature Activity). Consider these things:

- Does the lesson use visuals, manipulatives, realia, drama, or other techniques that would facilitate understanding?
- Does the lesson take into consideration the varying English proficiencies of language minority students?
- Do the lesson strategies incorporate group collaboration, cooperative learning activities, peer assistance, or other work-group techniques?
- Does the lesson incorporate the language and culture of language minority students?
- Is the curriculum reflected in the lesson challenging and not watered-down?
- Does the lesson include the 7-Intelligences and/or multiple modalities?
- Are the community/parents of English learners included in the unit of study?

You may work in a group of 2-4 students for this assignment. Group work is required and you may not change groups after once starting the project.

5. SDAIE PRESENTATION

10 points

Critical Assessment Task (CATs)

- Using some form of technology, present a SDAIE component of your Unit Plan to the class. You will not teach the lesson, but, explain it and its value.
 - Each group will have 20 minutes to present.
